MALATYA BEŞKONAKLAR ETHNOGRAPHY MUSEUM VE TRADITIONAL MALATYA HOUSES

THE LIFE OF MALATYA IS HERE

Beşkonaklar, where a two-story mansion with a pinnacle (Cihannüma), a pavilion, and a balcony, and four mansions with similar architecture adjacent to it, which the leading families of Malatya reside and built by Hacı Sait Efendi (Turfanda) and his brothers 120 years ago, are among the original examples of the traditional civil architecture of Malatya. The mansions consist of two floors namely, the ground floor and the upper floor. Through the winged door, one enters the hall, which is called Hayat/taşlık, which is usually used in summer. The spaces on both sides of the hall are used as kitchen-fireplace, pantry and room, followed by the courtyard. There is a sofa in the middle and rooms around it in the upstairs.

Handicrafts, fabric printing, clothing and accessories, kitchen tools and equipment, lighting, measuring instruments, firearms and cutting weapons and seals belonging to the Malatya region are exhibited.
